

Part C: All animals have had to adapt to survive in their habitats. If they can't learn to live in their habitat they will not survive. Humans are the masters of living in a range of habitats. The habitats that we live in have changed over time. Draw a picture down below of what you think the human's habitat looks like in each time period!

10,000 Years Ago

Today

10,000 Years From Now