

Part B: Choose one of the animals down below or one of your own. What adaptations would that animal need to develop to survive under the water. Draw a picture of the new animal. Label each of the new features to explain what they are for.

